Legal Matters

by Heather Ijames, Esq.

This Issue's Topic:
BREAKING UP IS HARD TO DO.
IT'S EXPENSIVE, TOO.

Business partnerships are like a marriage. If the number one cause of divorce in marriage is not seeing eye-to-eye on finances, imagine how exasperated a relationship built on financial goals can get.

In all my litigation experience related to dissolving business partnerships, there is only one eternal truth: fights happen. Then, small fights turn into bloody fights and the thing that bleeds the most is the business everyone was so happy to bring alive in the first place.

However, these fights, or at least the resolution thereof, can be predetermined and easily arranged for, to ensure a smooth transition when the breakup becomes inevitable. Much like a prenuptial agreement between spouses, a Buy-Sell Agreement between shareholders, partners, or LLC members can be a crucial document to give all involved the proper footing during the duel.

A Buy-Sell Agreement is the pre-planning device that dictates how a business or the other partner(s) will deal with the death, incapacity, or other departing event of a director, member, or partner, including the event whereby a party wishes to sever ties due to a soured relationship between remaining parties.

This agreement is typically drafted to define three concerns:

- 1) Who will purchase the departing interest, including whether the business will be the buyer;
- 2) What events will trigger the document's authority to govern the transaction—death, bankruptcy, a party's desire to leave the business, etc.; and
- 3) How the value of the interest will be calculated, including payout duration to keep the business solvent during the split.

Luckily, many hand-crafted Shareholder Agreements, Partnership Agreements, and Operating Agreements already contain a Buy-Sell provision. However, most of the agreements found online or ones that haven't been updated in a bit may lack the necessary details to effectuate a smooth transition. Thus, a stand-alone Buy-Sell Agreement can always be drafted and utilized to protect the business and the remaining parties' interests during the process.

Take a second and review your agreements to see if you're covered in a departing event. If you're not, call your business attorney immediately.

Mixed-Use Buildings and Egress

www.WC-3.com

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This class will cover the basic "Code Analysis" for commercial buildings. There is a brief review of Use Groups and Construction Types with an emphasis on how these influence the allowable area of the building. The class will discuss how to determine allowable area for mixed use buildings covering all methods permitted by the code, including Accessory, Non-separated, and Separated Uses with several examples of how to apply these. Information will be provided for fire separation of Use Groups as well as using Fire Walls to create separate buildings. Finally, the course will have an overview of egress requirements of the code with particular emphasis on determining the occupant load for buildings and the number of required means of egress.

Instructor: Todd Snider, PE, SE

Todd serves as the Plan Review Supervisor for WC3 and has more than 11 years of experience as a plans examiner and structural design professional. He is a licensed structural engineer in multiple states and has a Master's degree in Structural Engineering. Todd is certified by ICC as a commercial building, mechanical, energy, and accessibility plans examiner as well as a commercial building inspector. ## #0879 ORO- QUINCY HWY 2017 STORM DAMAGE, BUTTE COUNTY, CA

NEW!!

STATUS: Public Works
DUE: 9/5/2017 @ 4:00 PM
OWNER: BUTTE COUNTY
2081 2nd Street
Oroville, CA 95965
PH: 530-538-4353

PROJECT:

During the January 2017 storms two locations of Oro-Quincy Highway in the Mountain House area of Butte County failed. One location in Mountain House the fill upon which the road was built failed and an approximately 60 foot section of the road slid down the hill leaving an approximately 15 foot deep hole. At the other location approximately 0.5 miles north of the first location it appears that an MSE wall installed in approximately 2009 also failed causing the southbound lanes and the guard rail to drop approximately 3 feet. Both locations have had issues with this type of failure in the past. The last major project done on this section of the road was between 2004 and 2009 and was designed and constructed under the authority of the Federal Highways Administration Central Land office out of Colorado. The funding at the time was Forest Highway funds. Funding for this project will be from Federal Emergency Relief Funds administered by the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans).

The County is seeking interested consultants to provide services to both determine the cause of the failures and to prepare plans and specifications to repair the road segments.

Interested consultants must have a demonstrated record of accomplishing project development, design engineering, construction contract administration and construction engineering in road design and retaining wall design. Consultant should have experience in working with Federal Aid type projects administered through Caltrans.
